Foreword

As you, the Cople Students, turn the pages of this book may you again be reminded of the pleasant memories of your years at Cople. We hope your experiences at Cople will serve as stepping stones toward a full and rich life.

The Staff

Words cannot express the gratitude and affection we have for a man who has been with us through all our days at Cople. As principal, teacher, and counselor, he has guided us through the years with much love and understanding. For these reasons, we, the Class of 1957, dedicate our edition of "The Traveler" to Mr. Jesse Lynn Luthy.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

As you continue your long journey through life, set your ideals, goals, and standards high. They will give you direction in time of doubt, strength in time of weakness, and guidance in time of fear. Keep them ever before you so that you will be enabled to sight your course through them. Do not alter your course because of minor temptations for the straight way is the shortest path to real success.

Class History

When the class of 1957 entered high school there was the usual feeling that the road ahead was a long and tedious one. But almost four years later, as graduation time drew near, its members found that they could look back and recall many happy and rewarding experiences. Memories of Cople became an unwritten history now to be recorded for future reference and reflection.

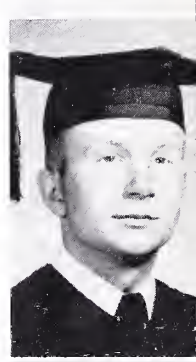
We have been very fortunate to have Mr. Luthy, Mr. Tarbox, Mr. Nelson, and Mr. Casey as our teachers all the way through high school. The other teachers who have been with us in high school have been: Mrs. Ryerson, Mrs. Sanford, Mrs. Courtney, Mrs. Douglas. Mrs. Brown and Miss Saunders joined us in our senior year.

Our freshman class was made up of nineteen pupils. That year most of the boys became members in the F.F.A., and some of us were on the baseball team. Mary Ann attended the State F.H.A. convention at Longwood. Some of the girls played softball and basketball, and most of them became members of the F.H.A. That year the girls softball team won the championship for district F.

In our sophomore year Joan went to SCA convention at Madison. Some of the class were in the school play. Ray was the representative to go to the Forensic Meet where he placed high in public speaking.

Our junior year was filled with many exciting events. There was much preparation and thought toward the banquet and prom. This was the first time a banquet and prom had been held together at Cople. Our theme was "Harbor Lights." Ray went to Boys State at Blacksburg, Mary Ball to SCA convention at Longwood, and James to SCA workshop. Many of us were in the school play. During the middle of our junior year, Frances Saunders left us and went to Montross. Barbara Barton left us at the end of the year.

In our senior year there were so many things to be done. With the work on the annual, the school play, sports, and our studies, we certainly had plenty to do. Joan was our annual editor. Clark was basketball captain, and James SCA president. The boys' basketball team won second place in the District. The King and Queen of the May Court were James and Joan; Ann was Maid of Honor.



Our class officers were the following: President, Ray Davis; Vice President, George English; Secretary, Mary Ball Massey; and Treasurer, Jean Thrift. Those winning class honors were Ray Davis, Joan Beatley and Jean Thrift. Mrs. Brown was our most helpful annual sponsor, and Mr. Luthy was our class sponsor.

As we leave Cople we hope that we will have as many happy and rewarding experiences in the future as we have had these past four years at Cople.

Class Prophecy

Richmond, Virginia
June 15, 1962

Dear Joan,

When home for Lucy's graduation last week, I heard that you were married and now raising a family - twins in fact! I know you are kept busy trying to keep up with them.

Speaking of children, do you ever see Ann Thrift, now Mrs. Bill Allison? I saw her in Warsaw and she said that Bill now owns WNNT and that she was helping out with the secretarial work. She had the children with her, and they certainly are cute little tykes.

She also told me that Evelyn Delano got a good secretarial job after graduating from Strayer's Business College. Seems that Joan Herbert also went to Strayer's, and that she and Evelyn see quite a bit of each other.

Oh, guess what Clark Trader, James Sydnor, and George D. English, Jr. are doing? They are working for one of largest construction companies on the west coast. Seems that Clark is an architect and James is chief engineer of the bridge construction department. George D. is consulting engineer of the highway construction gang which is building a super highway to and from the bridge. From what I gather, it is quite a project!

I hear that Ray Davis and Philip Cross are both in the scientific field. Philip is a research chemist for the Atomic Energy Commission and seems to be doing quite well. Ray's work deals more with physics and is rather secretive, so I don't know exactly what it is.

I saw Mary Ann Fields, and we had a long talk. She is secretary and bookkeeper for a local contractor and plans to be married in the fall. She thinks that Dorothy Dunaway is working in a bank in Washington, but isn't sure what Jean Thrift is doing. Somebody said that after finishing college, she went to Wyoming and is now a social worker there.

By the way, Harold Lynch went into the service after graduation, and when his term of duty was up, began what is now the largest electrical business in the Northern Neck.

Johnny Nelson and Betty Ann were married while I was home. She finished college this year and plans to nurse while he completes his studies for the ministry.

Heard from Pat Dameron the other day. She is the only classmate I've really kept up with, but haven't seen her for years. After school she went to work and then got married. They lived in Springfield, Virginia, for a couple of years, but have since moved to Montana. She said that spring was late out there and they still had snow in April. She lives in the country and loves it!

That reminds me! Bobby Sanford was named outstanding farmer in the state last week and is now a candidate for the national honor. He has well over a thousand acres under cultivation and lives in his own farm. Seems that he is so busy keeping up with the latest of everything, that he is rarely seen away from his work.

I imagine by now you are wondering what I'm doing. After graduation from M.C.V. last year, I went south for a while. I doubt if you ever heard me say it, but I've always wanted to go to Switzerland. So tomorrow I don a Woman's Nursing Corps uniform and after six months training, I'm European bound!

Write to me if you can get a minute and tell Francis I said "Hi."

Love,
Mary Ball

The Last Will and Testament of 1957 Seniors

Dorothy Dunaway leaves her bubbly giggle and bubble gum to Mr. Casey.

Harrold Lynch leaves his little red curls to Margaret Ellen Brann.

Mary Ball Massey leaves her 4-H work to anyone who wants it.

George English leaves his good sportsmanship in basketball to Jimmy Messick.

Joan Beatley leaves her beaming personality to Doris Barnes.

James Sydnor leaves his quiet nature to Brooks Arnest.

Ann Thrift leaves her record of "School Days" to the dear old Juniors.

Clark Trader leaves his skill in basketball to Lester Fallin.

Evelyn Delano leaves her footprints behind her.

Bobby Sanford leaves his Pepsodent smile to Mac Ficklin.

Joan Herbert leaves her golden voice to Pat Trader.

Ray Davis leaves his individualistic ways, which include his brignt red beard, to Wayne Balderson.

Mary Ann Fields leaves her love for Home Economics to Kay Wilson.

Johnny Nelson leaves his excess energy to Katherine Hudson.

Pat Dameron leaves her Safety Patrol badge to Lucy Butler.

Philip Cross leaves his basketball dribbling to Robert Burton.

Jean Thrift leaves her ability to get good grades to Nancy Packett.

The Senior Class of 1957 leaves its good will and good wishes to all the future Seniors at Cople.
